

Finance Verification Checklist

Before a Copilot-assisted Finance narrative leaves your hands:

- The source workbook/table and reporting period are named.
- Materiality is defined or made explicit.
- Every consequential number is recalculated or reconciled.
- Actual, plan, prior period, and percentage bases are not mixed.
- Facts are separated from interpretations and hypotheses.
- Each material claim has a source, check, status, uncertainty, and owner.
- Data-quality gaps are visible rather than buried.
- The brief uses only Verified or Supported claims as facts.
- Decisions needed and responsible owners are named.
- A qualified Finance owner approves the final narrative.
